We'll meet a young Jewish boy who lived during one of the most impactful periods of history, who ends up writing the Gospel of Mark, the shortest of all four gospels with its own personality. Its pacing is quick, and its focus is often more on what Jesus did above what He said. One of our main themes as we study this book will be discipleship — what we learn about following Jesus and how we can apply it to our lives.

The background of the entire page is a stylized illustration. It depicts a person standing on a dark, silhouetted hill in the foreground, looking out over a vast landscape of rolling, layered mountains in shades of blue and green. The sky is a light, hazy blue with a soft, glowing light source, possibly the sun or moon, creating a serene and contemplative atmosphere.
